Homeless Toombs Family Beats Christmas Deadline

By CHARLES S. PRESTON

Martin Toombs beat the Christmas deadline this week.

With four days remaining until the annual celebration of "Peace on Earth, Goodwill Toward Men," he found a home for his family of 10.

Mr. Toombs, who has been searching for a home about two months, did not find a house to rent, however.

The City Council may be interested to know that he was finally compelled to BUY a three-room dwelling for his eight children, wife and himself. The council is investigating the question of whether there is a shortage of rental housing, you know.

Mr. Toombs said he was able to obtain a house with an extremely low down payment. He borrowed the money for the down payment, he told The Recorder, and will repay it out of his salary. He is steadily employed.

The new abode of the Toombs family is situated in the neighborhood of "project A," earmarked for slum clearance by the Redevelopment Commission.

House Sold Under Them

The family's troubles began when they rented a house at 815 Maxwell st. last fall. Soon after they moved in, they were informed that the house would be wrecked to make way for a new building of Indiana University Medical Center.

Surrounding dwellings have all been torn down, and even the other half of the Toombs' double has had doors and windows removed.

Northside Woman Wins Prize In Crosley National Contest

Mrs. Earl Johnson, 2025 Highland Pl., was awarded a brand new Crosley Shelvador Refrigerator last Saturday night on Monument Circle by representatives of the Rosner's Furniture Company, 823 N. Senate avenue.

Mrs. Johnson received the refrigerator as the result of her winning the recently-held Crosley Contest, sponsored by Rosner's.

According to judges of the contest, she gave the best reasons why the store should give her a new Shelvador in a letter of less than fifty words. The contest saw more than 2,000 local entries.

Mrs. Johnson, whose husband is a disabled veteran, said, "I have two kids to keep milk for. My icebox is 15 years old and won't hold out much longer."

She added, "I can't afford to buy a new box. I need one badly."

Henry S. Donner, manager of the Rosner's Company, told The Recorder that his firm had judged the letters not only by their contents but also according to the writers' earnestness and their need for new refrigerators.

He said they picked two winners and investigated each before making the final decision.

The prize was awarded as part

"CAT BURGLAR" GETS YEAR ON STATE FARM

Dailey to Make War on Family Deserters

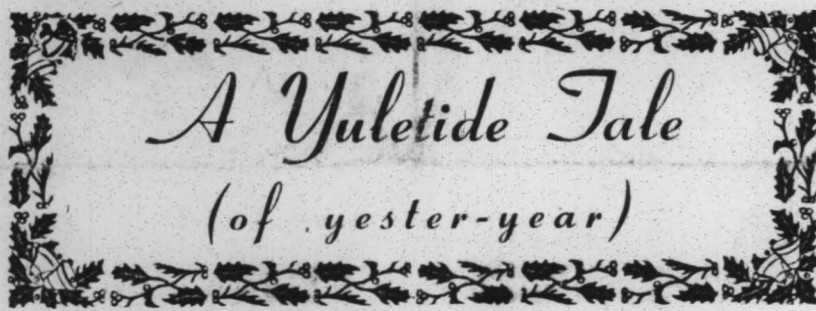

A group of judges and welfare workers in a special meeting in the grand jury room of the courthouse this week were told by Marion County Prosecutor George S. Dailey that husbands and fathers who desert their wives and children will find "the going rough" in the county after the first of the year.

Mr. Dailey told the group he planned to assign a deputy after January 1 to the "full time job" of investigating and prosecuting men who desert their families, causing a sharp upswing in the county's relief load.

He said extradition proceedings will be filed against men who flee to other states to avoid criminal prosecution for failing to make support payments for their children and wives and for former wives.

The shortage of funds to finance extradition proceedings, in the past has hampered this type of action against runaway husbands. Mr. Dailey observed but this will change in 1950. About $21,000 will be available next year against $4,200 for all types of extradition this year, he told the group.

Under the new set-up, wandering husbands may be found in short order, Mr. Dailey ventured. "We mean business," Mr. Dailey added. Judges of the superior courts attending the meeting pledged their support to Mr. Dailey.

By WM. A. CHAMBERS

A wintry wind blowing snow hither and yon, carried the dying blast of the hoarse ambulance siren up and down Cumberland Avenue at Palmyra Road.

In the twilight under the massive boulevard lights lay the near lifeless body of a newboy, street urchin. His head rested in the arms of a husky police officer. The small crowd of smartly dressed people stamped around in the biting cold. Jackie leaned near to the body of Jimmy's father, a crucifix around Jimmy's neck, plainly visible on his pale white body, through the little dirty blood-stained shirt.

Jackie held the crucifix in one tiny dirty black hand and raising the other hand clenched tightly, he directed it in the general direction of the lady in silver fox furs and jewels galore.

With tears streaming down his cheeks, and choking with emotion he screamed, "Y—ou kill—ed him."

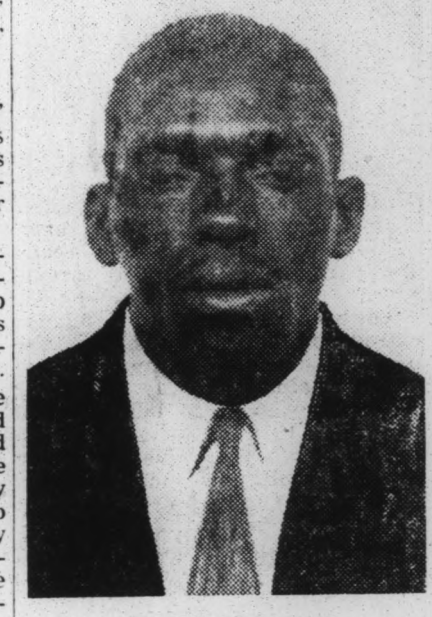

"You—You—y—ou killed him. You could've shot him—y—ou could've stabbed him in the back, but y—ou mowed him down, and what a great Christmas 'tis goin' to be for me."

The crowd retreated slightly. Standing almost limp the lady in the silver fox furs, who ran Jimmy

100 Robberies Charged to "Cat Burglar" Here

Believed to be the "Cat Burglar" who entered over 100 westside homes during the spring and summer of this year, in early morning hours, William Smith age 27, Peoria, Ill. ex-convict faced quick but slight justice here Monday.

A jury of eleven men and one woman found Smith guilty of third degree burglary, in a six-hour trial in Criminal Court II, before Judge Saul I. Rabb.

Originally charged with first degree burglary and facing a penalty of 10 to 20 years, Smith was sentenced to do a year on the State Farm. He was fined $450 following his conviction on the third degree burglary charge.

Smith was arrested here September 26 by police who caught him coming out of the window of an apartment at 1105 N. Missouri st.

Working with his shoes off, he allegedly had burglarized the apartment of Mrs. Elizabeth Weaver and got out with $8 and a gold locket.

However, in breaking into the apartment he awakened Mrs. Weaver, who got out of bed and went downstairs and called police.

Police arrived just in time to see Smith climbing out of Mrs. Weaver's window. He jumped from the roof and refused to stop when officers ordered him to, but finally came to a halt after a shot was fired at him. The cash and locket were both found in his pockets, according to police.

Smith did not take the stand at

Local Lawyer Wins Unique Legal Victory

John D. Watson, 37-year-old musician, 2832 Boulevard Place, won an important legal victory when he defeated a charge of assault and battery in Criminal Court No. 1 Friday last week.

As result of the skillful handling of the defense by Attorney Henry J. Richardson, Jr., Special Judge Herbert M. Spencer ruled it was an apparent case of mistaken identity and ordered the defendant discharged.

Miss Lucy Scott had positively "identified" Mr. Watson in court as the man who followed her from a streetcar and attempted to rape her about midnight September 21, 1948.

Witnesses called by Atty. Richardson established beyond doubt that at the time of the alleged attack Mr. Watson was at home with his wife and children. Officials of the Richardson Rubber company where both Miss Scott and Watson worked produced records which showed the accused man was not at work nor had been at work for hours previous to the time Miss Scott said she was attacked.

Miss Scott identified Mr. Watson four days later at the plant when she looked up from work and saw him, she testified. He was arrested later on the charge and released on bond.

Mr. Watson is a senior student at the Jordan College of Music, is prominent as a musician, and has been a member of the Jordan Symphony Orchestra for a number of years.

Character witnesses established the fact that his reputation as a man of character, outstanding ability and law-abiding citizen was the very highest.

Two-Gun Bandit Gets Ten-Year Term in Prison

Fred Thomas Bean, age 26, 760 W. 26th street, confessed two-gun bandit who help up and robbed 20 places in Indianapolis and eight other Indiana cities, pleaded guilty to charges of robbery and commission of a felony while armed.

Before Judge Saul I. Rabb in Criminal Court II, Bean was given a 10-year term on the first count and 10 to 25 years on the second. The sentences will be served one after the other.

James Stevenson Jr., age 17, 2523 N. California st., who allegedly accompanied and helped Bean on one of the robberies, was sentenced to 10 years in the state reformatory.

Bean, according to police signed a statement admitting 20 holdups since October 17.

He was convicted in connection with the Nov. 17 holdup of a market on West Morris st., during which he is alleged to have taken $114 from a woman cashier and fled after firing a shot at a parked car. Commendable detective work by Sergeants Spurgeon Davenport and

Special Board Meet to Hear Durham Case

The Board of Safety announced Wednesday it will hear the climatic case of Patrolman Jacques Durham, January 17 at a special meeting in its chambers at City Hall.

Durham was suspended December 2 by Police Chief Edward Rouls on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer following a conference in which the Chief was given information tending to show that the officer had failed to arrest several members of an alleged burglary ring even though he knew they were wanted by fellow police officers.

A police trial board of superior officers, after hearing testimony December 9 referred the case to the top authority which is the Board of Safety.

The charge of conduct unbecoming an officer, which by custom and tradition "covers a multitude of sins" in its generality grew out of the statements by suspected criminals given to investigators connecting Durham with certain aspects of their activities.

Under arrest as members of a burglary ring are Mrs. Darlene Jones, 25, 425 Bernard Place and James Conner, 29, 2102 Allfree street.

Another member of the alleged

Four Methodist Branches Work Union in City

REV. G. A. BROOKS

A Union Methodist Alliance comprising the four branches of Methodism, namely: The Methodist, Colored Methodist Episcopal, African Methodist Episcopal, and the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Churches was organized Friday, December 16th, at Phillips Temple C.M.E. Church.

Officers: Rev. G. Alexander Brooks, president; Dr. W. H. Jones, vice president; Rev. Mrs. Lenora Reed, secretary; Rev. O. A. Calhoun, assistant secretary, and Dr. I. Albert Moore, treasurer.

Ministers of the four branches of Methodism felt that since they are the same in doctrine and practically the same in church polity, and that since the four branches of Methodism have a similar educational and social program for this quadrennium, they should form themselves into a union alliance in order to lend encouragement and support to one another, and to work for the one church for which Christ prayed.

at Christmas time they were separated forever.

Jackie finally retreated to the curb. He huddled near a fire plug as the ambulance moved away with Jimmie's body. The lady in the silver fox fur was carried back to another great sleek limousine. One of the gentlemen escorting her, then returned to Jackie.

"Two Strong Men Commune"

"Where do you live, sonny?"

"No place," was the reply.

"Will you go home with me? I will give you some good warm clothes and try to make Christmas merry for you."

"No, sir."

Jackie spoke good English. He rubbed away cold tears with his tiny hand. Neither he nor his buddy had been anything for physical vigors, both were approaching age seven.

"You know, sir, a guy has to live before Christmas, and after Christmas is gone."

He stood and gathered his frail little outer garment around himself.

"I guess I'll be finding another town."

"Finding another town, what in the world do you mean, sonny?"

"Just that, sir, can't stay here now that Jimmy is gone."

"What is your name, sonny?" the gentleman inquired.

"Jackie Belleville."

"This is Christmas, Jackie, what would you like to do more than anything else in the world on Christmas Day?"

"The Fellowship Spirit"

"I would like to buy a swell, fine coffin and lots of flowers for Jimmie McKivers."

"—And Jimmie, — Oh yes he wanted to give 12 truckloads of toys, clothes and food to the poor guys, on Christmas Day, who live in Canton flats."

"Very well, and that we shall do, so long as the two of us live in memory of Jimmie McKivers."

This is the story of the breaking up of a Damon and Pythias friendship between a little black boy and a little white boy in the streets of a great city. But another, a stronger one was formed on Christmas Eve, which goes on today, somewhere East or West of where you are according to the legend.

Rent Hearing

Councilman D. B. Jameson argued that the dollar is worth a lot more now than it was before and during the war and opined that the landlords should get some of its extra worth.

Henry A. Werking of the Home Owners' Union, told the Council that landlords will drop prices as soon as rent is de-controlled.

"Rent de-control means 25 to 300 per cent rent increases which would fall on the working people," Forrest W. Davis, Progressive Party, declared.

Davis said the increases would take so much from the pockets of the working people it would finally result in a depression.

He went on to say that some cities which de-controlled rents had to re-control them because rents were increased so much.

After the meeting as Davis left the hall a man allegedly known to him struck him down on the City Hall steps.

Davis told The Recorder that the man who he thinks he spoke during the hearing, walked up to him as he stood talking to some women and without warning struck him in the jaw.

gang, Charles Pike Webb, 33 years old, Chicago, is awaiting trial on a burglary charge at Rushville, Ind.

Still another member of the group is said to be Robert Lewis, 30, alias Robert Murphy, now being held in Los Angeles, Calif.

Denies Charges
Durham stoutly denied any connection with any criminal activities by any alleged burglary gang, implying he was being made the victim of circumstances.

The suspended patrolman also denied he was aware of the fact detectives were seeking to place Mrs. Jones and Conner under arrest earlier than the time he began making efforts to arrest them which he subsequently did.

Suspended 6 Times
A member of the department for more than eight years, Durham has been suspended previously six times gaining the accolade "stormy petrel" of the police department. He has a case pending in Circuit Court seeking reversal of a Safety Board conviction of guilty in failing to make an official report to his superior officers properly and within reasonable time. This case is also scheduled to be heard next January. Durham is endeavoring to recover 60 days' pay imposed by the Safety Board.

.. Social Scene ..

By RICHARD C. HENDERSON

One is kept a little busy these days, what with juggling time between making preparations for the celebration of Christmas and attending various functions celebrating the holiday ahead of time.

Again this week I was happy that I happened to drop into the social editor's seat at this newspaper — otherwise, however would I have enjoyed the perfectly superb turkey and ham dinner in the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. WEIR STUART on Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Stuart was hostess to the annual Christmas party of the Woman's Improvement club?

This bachelor stomach of mine seldom is regaled in such a marvelous manner. I've always had a sneaking contempt for columnists who go into raptures over dinners, but possibly they do have sufficient reason occasionally.

With the accent on celebration, naturally all thought of business was swept aside, and the members enjoyed the singing of ROBERT BRUCE, accompanied by WALTER DAWSON before they tried their luck at a guessing game — won by Mrs. EDITH LAMBERT, who modestly pointed out that she just knew the "secret behind winning games."

Program highlight was the reading of the story of the Nativity of Our Lord by individual members. Miss EMILY STUART conducted the women in reading Bible verses while holding a lighted candle, and the story was topped off with a reading by Mrs. MARGUERITE NORRELL, special guest.

Other guests, by the way, were Mesdames CELIA SIMON, NETTIE BROKENBUR, and MARTHA ANN FISHER BRADLEY, each of whom received a gift from the hostess. (Mrs. Stuart was even kind enough to remember the press in passing out her gifts!)

As members exchanged gifts, conducted by Mrs. SHIRLEY EVANS, there was just a touch of sadness occasioned by the fact that Mesdames IDA BRYANT, ADELE SIMMS, and MATTIE DANGERFIELD, three of the older members and "guiding spirits" behind the club were unable to be present. The members, of course, sent cards assuring the women they were all together in spirit, anyway.

As luck would have it, the day marked the birthday of Mrs. ETTA SIMMS, and the other members took time out to give a rousing rendition of "Happy Birthday to You."

Members present were Mesdames MABEL AUGUSTA, president; ELIZABETH ENIX, SUSAN HARPER, MARIAN COWAN, MERLE CRAIG, MARTHA COX, STELLA HATCH, MARY A. JOHNSON, KATHERINE MAYE, ELLEN N. POSEY, NETTIE C. RANSOM, EDITH LAMBERT, SHIRLEY EVANS, MARY D. WILSON, GRACE RANSOM, ALICE B. RAY, ZELIE PEOPLES, MYRTLE HUMMONS, and ETTA SIMMS.

Members of the Women's Service club of Second Christian Church enjoyed their annual Christmas party on Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. LILLIAN HALL, where they feasted on a southern-style baked ham dinner.

Mrs. RUBY RANKIN directed the games, and told the Christmas story. Winners of prizes were Mesdames MAYME BATTIES and BLANCHE COLEMAN. "Secret pals" were revealed, and the customary exchange of secret pal gifts was held.

An eye-catcher was the unusually decorated Christmas tree — it was done with old jewels! Mrs. Hall has ransacked the attic trunks for beautiful, but out-moded jewelry belonging to her mother and adorned the tree with them. Then, to heighten the effect, she left lights off the tree and had the jewels reflect the light from a desk lamp.

There was just one concession to modern tastes — rose-colored satin ribbon held a discreet number of Christmas balls to the white tree.

Members present were Mesdames DELLA GREER, president; BLANCHE COLEMAN, RUBY RANKIN, ELLA GORDON, JENNIE JENNINGS, ZELLA WARD, DOANA GOODWIN, ELIZABETH HEROD, BESSIE BACON, KATIE CORNETT, EMMA MITCHELL, SUSAN HARPER, MAYME BATTIES, and MARY A. JOHNSON. Special guests were Rev. and Mrs. R. H. PEOPLES and Mr. and Mrs. STERLING McELWAIN, Lafayette.

Mrs. Hall, incidentally, will be hostess to the Christmas party of the Book Lovers club next Wednesday night. About which more later.

Children of the far north side had their day last Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. HARRY JAMES WATTS entertained kiddies of her nursery school at a gala Christmas party.

The occasion also served to honor the youngest nursery child, three-year-old BARRY DUMAS, on his birthday.

In addition, it was sort of a reunion of graduates, present students, and former students, all of whom enjoyed the five-tiered white cake topped by three little candles in the form of miniature soldiers.

Candies and holly decorated the base of the cake. Naturally, ice cream was a "must."

A movie "Night Before Christmas" was shown before the kiddies got their biggest thrill — the visit from Santa Claus, appearing in the corporeal form of ROBERT MEMICKENS.

Assisting as hostesses were Mesdames WILLIAM D. MACKAY, FRANCIS D. HUMMONS, J. LEON SIMMS, and CHARLES ROGERS. Guest of honor was Miss ILENE WILLIAMS of the welfare department, who was instrumental in licensing the school.

Mrs. Watts has been quite successful with the nursery school. She hails from North Carolina and New Jersey, and attended Hampton institute and Winston-Salem teachers college.

Miss CLARICE BAXTER, Washington, D. C., is spending the holiday season with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. CLARENCE BAXTER. To make up for "Washington's loss and Indianapolis's gain" is the fact that Miss ALBERTINE JOHNSON is spending the season with her mother, Mrs. ALBERT JOHNSON, in Washington.

Guest of Miss GLORIA ANN MORTON-FINNEY in the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. JOHN W. MORTON-FINNEY, is Miss YVONNE OLIVIA COLE, Los Angeles. Miss Cole, who plans to spend the whole holiday season

Alpha Phi Omega Members Feted

Members of Psi Theta chapter of Alpha Phi Omega sorority were entertained by a special treat at the monthly meeting, held Tuesday of last week in the home of Mrs. Katherine Bailey, 113 West 21st st.

Mrs. Bailey had as guest Mrs. Kathleen McCarley, who gave Dunbar's monologue "Why Do We Quarrel?" Mrs. Grace Yost gave a reading on Christmas and its meaning.

After the meeting, a surprise buffet dinner was enjoyed. The house was decorated throughout in a Christmas motif. The dining table centerpiece was a huge Santa's sleigh and trees partly covered with snow. Large red candles were at both ends of the Italian lace cloth covered table.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Marie Williams.

Members present were Sorors Frances Davidson, Mildred Wiley, Ruth Smith, Fannie DeJarnette, Margaret Smith, Bernice Kent, Myrtle Brooks, Marie Williams, Savonia Jarrett, Peggy Landers, Katherine Bailey, and Victoria Bowman.

Each guest received a gift from the hostess.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Margaret Smith.

TO VISIT PARENTS: Cpl. James R. Bushrod will spend the Christmas holiday season at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Davis, 5609 East 34th street.

Cpl. Bushrod is stationed at Keesley Air Force Base, attending radio operators school.

here, is an art instructor at Fisk university.

Mr. and Mrs. LARRY FALWELL and son will arrive Friday from Baltimore to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. ERNEST R. BATTLES.

Falwell, you know, is director of physical education and recreation at Maryland state teachers college at Bowie.

Dr. and Mrs. STEPHEN AUTER will spend the holidays in Washington, D. C. visiting their daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. WILDER C. MONTGOMERY, and sons.

A welcome Christmas present to Mr. and Mrs. REGINALD BRUCE is little NATALIE JANE BRUCE, born Monday to the couple.

Well, dear readers, (assuming that there are some) if there is one drop of energy left in one Richard C. Henderson by this time next week, you can expect a column loaded with notes on the myriad dances, parties, dinners, and every imaginable form of entertainment scheduled for the coming week — there're plenty of them.

This promises to be a particularly happy Christmas; already I have received one or two rather unexpected presents, and that always makes people happy, doesn't it?

CANCEL DANCE Because of the scheduling of a midnight Mass in St. Rita's Roman Catholic Church on New Year's Eve, the dance of the ladies' auxiliary to the Knights of St. Peter Claver, originally planned for that night, has been canceled.

Aroused Parents Of C.A.H.S. Launch Band Uniforms Drive

Members of the Orchestra-Band Parents club of Crispus Attucks high school, aroused because the school's band could not march in this year's Armistice Day parade, have launched a drive for $5,000 to purchase uniforms for the band.

The music department of the school, along with other school officials and far-seeing parents, had long recognized the need for uniforms for the band, as the former way of keeping uniforms was only a temporary measure. However, it was not until the band couldn't march this year that the rest of the community became concerned and made the success of a $5,000 drive seem assured.

Formerly the ROTC had supplied uniforms, since the band had cooperated with the ROTC on such occasions as the annual "Inspection Day" and Armistice Day parades. This was not the customary practice, however, and those interested enough to think ahead saw that its discontinuance was imminent.

All other local high schools now supply their own uniforms, and, of course, their bands are able to make a "pretty sight" on any occasion. These uniforms are not in any case furnished by the school board, which gives only necessary equipment to the schools. All schools have had to rely upon the generosity of interested parents and other persons.

A series of projects lasting over a span of four months has been planned by the club.

Currently going on is the "Half Mile or Dimes" during which the Orchestra-Band Parents and Choir Parents will solicit dimes to fill six-inch tins. Chairman of the campaign, to end on January 1, is Leo Robinson, and LaVerne Newsome is co-chairman.

Efforts during January will be concentrated on a "tag campaign," culminating in an auditorium period during school hours highlighted with a parade across the stage. A hand concert is projected in connection with this phase of the drive.

Indicative of the concern of the whole school for the success of the drive, the printing department will co-operate by printing the tags, while Norris Byers, president of the Student Council, will be chairman of the campaign, with Russell Brown, director of the band, as co-chairman.

Emphasis during February will be on fun, with a basketball game scheduled along with a carnival. Proceeds from the game with Arsenal Technical high school will go to the uniform drive, and club members will manage concessions for the Pine Village and Cloverdale games. M. Dailey will be chairman of this project.

Mrs. Lillian Pierce of the school's English department will be assisted by Mrs. Frank Stewart of the club in planning the carnival for the third week in

Chapters Of Gradale Sorority Enjoy Second Annual Banquet

Beta Alpha Mu and Sigma Theta chapters of Gradale sorority held their second annual "fellowship banquet" last Saturday night in the Senate Avenue YMCA.

The banquet tables were lighted by candles, and roses were used as centerpieces, while a large bouquet of roses was placed on the speakers' table. Each girl was given a bow in the club colors.

The program included group singing of Christmas carols, the Gradale song, and a dramatic monologue by Miss Norma Lewis.

Mrs. Vivian Terry Moore, dean of girls at Crispus Attucks high school, was speaker, and talked on "Preparedness for World Living." Miss Lillian Thompson introduced the speaker, and Miss Evelyn Slaughter served as master of ceremonies.

Next meeting of the group will be held on January 7.

Brothers of the Phalanx fraternity journeyed together Saturday night to the home of Brother Hansen Arnold for a smoker. During cokes and cigarettes, the fellows joined in a "bull-session," and discussed new ideas for programs during the weekly meetings.

A list of speakers and topics was composed to serve as a guide for meetings of the coming year.

Next meeting will be on January 7.

With many students returning home for the holidays, last Sunday's meeting of the Intercollegiate club was held with a full-house. Miss Blanche Phillips gave the newscast report of the public affairs committee, and Miss A. Leila Perry invited the club to attend the Wednesday Luncheon club.

For the program, Miss Norma Lewis reviewed "Immortal Wife" by Irving Stone.

Next meeting of the organization, to be held on Christmas Day, will feature Christmas caroling and refreshments.

Welfare Committee of F.A.C. Sponsors Alpha Home Party

By ELSA JACKSON

Members of the Federation of Associated Clubs, Inc., well-wishers, and participants on the program crowded the Alpha Home last Sunday afternoon and evening for the seventh annual Christmas party given by the health and welfare committee of the FAC to gladden the hearts of the aged and infirm residents.

Teen-agers and adults rendered an especially attractive program.

Large packages of gifts, fruit, and candy were given to each resident, and delicious refreshments were served to everyone. Members of the committee made personal visits to each resident unable to come downstairs.

Mrs. Emma McKnight is chairman of the committee, and Mrs. Sophronia Montgomery, now ill, is co-chairman.

Other members are Mesdames Marietta Green, secretary; Ada Cheeks, treasurer; Hattie Davis, Beatrice Stewart, Sarah Wade, Ann Robinson, Frances Benford, Elise Mitchell, Nannie Mae Lewis, Elvira Jackson, Cherry Brown, Kathaleen Palmer, Myrtle Vance, and Julia Strader.

Three needy families are also being remembered by the committee this Christmas.

Because it is Christmas time, the Gay Caballeros felt the desire to help someone less fortunate than they, and, at their request, the Recorder Good Fellows gave the club the name of a family of eight who were in need. Club members made individual cash donations and voted enough money from the club treasury to make up a purse of $50 for the family.

Plans are being completed for the annual election of officers and installation banquet to be held in January.

The trustee board of the FAC will give away a 1950 model electric refrigerator Friday night.

The beautifully decorated FAC home was a perfect setting for the Christmas party of the educational committee last week, as 25 guests enjoyed the evening along with

Voice of Eastside

By MARY P. McGUIRE

The passing of Mrs. Aletha J. Beckwith, mother of Frank R. Beckwith, has taken from us a valuable person, but we find consolation in knowing that she left memories of an influence of blessings. Mrs. Beckwith as a slave knew that to accomplish anything in this world, we must not stand back, shivering and thinking of the danger, but jump in and scramble through as best we can.

This is the one great lesson she taught her son, Frank, whom we all know has done so much for our people. In this case a mother has given more than merely a mother's love, in itself one of the greatest gifts of God.

From the very first time I met Mrs. Beckwith, back in 1926, I saw that she always displayed that mother's love for all young people, and in the neighborhood of 23rd and Hovey streets, where she formerly lived, she was deeply loved by all.

Due to a slight cold, I was unable to attend the funeral, much as I would have liked to. I think we should always make every effort to pay last tribute to those who have lived long and serviceable lives. Mrs. Beckwith never gave up, and she kept on keeping on.

Now, please get your eyes off that Christmas gift list for a few moments, pull yourself out of the "gotta do this Christmas" rut, and just glide away back to the first Christmas you can remember.

Remember your first gifts? Mine was a little lamp that used real oil, and although it's old, I have some parts of it today. I still have the bottom and burner, but the chimney has been gone for many years.

Remember your first tree? Mine was very small, but it meant a lot to me. Remember your first Christmas entertainment? The carols you sang in the first grade day school closed? The little gift you took to your teacher, and how you hoped it would be as nice as the other kids'?

Remember the church entertainment when you spoke your first little piece? Remember how you would tip-toe out of bed on Christmas Eve, and look at the stars and the snow from your window and talk about the Baby Jesus in an awed, hushed voice? And, of course, we talked about Santa Claus and hoped we'd catch a glimpse of him riding through the sky with his sleigh and reindeer.

Won't you think about all this a little bit as you dash about on those Christmas errands and chores? It will help you understand it all better. That's what Christmas is, honestly.

A beautiful talent show was presented last Monday night by children of School No. 26. First and third grade pupils did the "hucklebuck," and selections were rendered by children in the fifth grade. Lovely instrumental number was played by Gilbert Taylor, and the program closed with the ninth grade presenting a

KEEPING CHRISTMAS CHRIST-CENTERED

Having followed through the Advent Season we have come again to that Holy Messianic Festival known to us as Christmas. To the Christian Church, Christmas means the Birth of the Christ Child, who, according to the Holy Scripture and His own testimony concerning himself is the Divine Son of God and the World's Redeemer. With this Rev. Moore background Christians should exercise great care in planning their Christmas festivities.

Don't lose Christ in your Christmas, for without Christ Christmas is a meaningless festival. Christians should plan no parties to which they would be ashamed to invite the Christ; for after all it is his birthday you are celebrating. Let Christians watch the danger that is becoming more prevalent each year—that Christmas is more Santa Claus-centered than Christ-centered. At the Christmas season Santa Claus is mentioned ten thousand more times than Jesus Christ, whose birthday we celebrate. I do not ask you to say less about Santa Claus, but I am asking you to say and do more about the Christ. Remove Santa Claus from the center of your Christmas and place him where he belongs; and place Christ at the center of Christmas where He Belongs. Let the story of Christ be told in every home.

I. ALBERT MOORE,
Pastor of Jones Tabernacle
A. M. E. Zion Church.

Attorney Faces Embezzlement Charge at Gary

CROWN POINT—You've heard of "borrowing from Peter to pay Paul," but how about embezzling your bond to get out of jail?

That's what Chester C. McGuire, Gary attorney, was accused of last week. Lake County Deputy Prosecutor John N. Stanton filed the embezzlement charges here against McGuire.

The attorney's troubles began in October. He was arrested after being indicted with two other Gary men in connection with an alleged $11,000 swindle from members of the Pilgrim Baptist Church in Fort Wayne.

It was charged that McGuire and the others took the money to build a new church, but did not do so. The upshot found them in the Allen County jail, faced with the necessity of raising bond.

McGuire, it happens, is treasurer of the Leader Realty and Investment Company in Gary.

Philip Trent, representing that company, charged that McGuire used his official position to obtain $250 of the company's funds, which he then used to help obtain his freedom in Allen County. McGuire did not pay back the cash, Trent alleged.

Marion Pastor to Conduct Program In Indianapolis

REV. JAS. C. BUGGS

MARION — The Rev. James C. Buggs, pastor of The Church of God in Christ of this city, will conduct a special district Young People's meeting, Saturday, Dec. 24th, at 7:30 p. m., at the Church of God in Christ, 1143 N. Senate Avenue, Indianapolis. Bishop J. H. Boone is pastor of the Indianapolis church.

The services will include a short sermon, singing and musical selections. The Indiana State Band of the church will furnish music for the program. Members of the band include Carl Steen and Minor Pruitt, 15 years old South Bend youths. They are sensations on the saxophone and trumpet. Also Miss Delores Buggs, age 14, Marion, an accomplished pianist.

Leo Nelson, Gary, is state chairman of the band. The Rev. James Robinson, Indianapolis, is in charge of arrangements, and Mrs. Ethel Waters of Indianapolis is the field worker. The public is invited to attend the program at the Indianapolis church.

Rev. Buggs, pastor of the Marion Church is also district Y.P.W.W. president for the Indianapolis district and state and regional music director for Indiana and Kentucky.

PUBLIC SCHOOL NAMED FOR DR. GEORGE W. CARVER AT GARY

GARY (Special)—The local public school at Twenty-sixth and Virginia streets was renamed last week for Dr. George W. Carver, eminent chemurgist or agricultural scientist and research director at Tuskegee Institute.

Dr. Carver's name was preferred by 65 per cent of the pupils, parents and teachers taking part in the voting, on the 39 names proposed. The school board was informed by Robert O. Greer, principal of the school.

The three most popular names were submitted to the school trustees to make the final selection. They accepted the popular choice of the people, with Rev. J. Claude Allen dissenting.

Rev. Allen felt that the school should be named for someone who had lived and labored in this community and made a lasting contribution to the community's welfare.

Local Man's Name Favored
He favored the name of the late Dr. Roy W. Grubbs, a Negro physician, who served his people in the central district, working for little compensation, especially during the depression. Rev. Allen said Dr. Grubbs died of overwork. He rated fifth in the voting.

Running second in the voting was the name of Frederic C. MacFarlane, first principal of Roosevelt high school, who died a year ago. The name of Dr. James H. colleges in his lifetime, was third. He made Gary his home from 1916 until his death at the age of 98, in 1947.

List Reduced to Seven
The committee of the P.T.A. faculty and the student council which screened the names reduced the list to seven before determining the three most suitable suggestions.

Dr. Carver, the patron saint of the new school, was born in slavery and knew neither his father nor mother. Born with a thirst for knowledge, but with no school to attend, he borrowed an old spelling book and became his own teacher.

Eleven universities conferred honorary degrees upon him and his life story was made into a feature motion picture. All peoples, races and creeds are the beneficiaries of the knowledge he gained in painstaking research. The U.S. Congress has designated Jan. 5 as Carver Day and recently a postage stamp was issued to honor him.

Dr. Jas. F. Casey Heads Marion Urban League

MARION—Following the annual election on Tuesday, Dec. 13, Dr. Joseph F. Casey assumed his duties as president of the executive board of the local Urban League.

The election was held in the home of Mrs. Alonzo Marshall.

Dr. Casey succeeded the Rev. O. L. Powell, Sherman Spear was named vice president, succeeding George Bowles. Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell, secretary, and Francis H. Davis, treasurer, were reelected.

Kenneth O. Wilson, executive secretary, reviewed the program of the Urban League prior to the election of officers. He stressed the need for strong committee work and the need for funds to promote the winter program of the organization.

Mr. Wilson also told of the tuberculosis survey projects conducted in cooperation with Mrs. Oressa Kneec and the Grant County Tuberculosis Association. A financial report was made by Mr. Davis and accepted by the board.

Following the election last Tuesday, directors taking their positions on the board for the first time were John O. Campbell, Donald McFarland, John B. Sisson, Sherman Spear, Mrs. Levenia Carson, Ed Williams and Miss Joan Hughes.

Retained on the board were Dr. J. F. Casey, Dr. S. T. Ginsberg, Donald Hawkins, Mrs. Luella Jackson, Mrs. Bessie Inman, Milton Maidenberger, Dan Resneck, Chester Pettiford and James Perkins.

Others, Mrs. Merle Thurston, George Bowles, Mrs. Millard Campbell, Francis Davis, Harley Burden, Jr., Mrs. Anna Mae Head, Mrs. Alonzo Marshall and Miss Marilyn Osborn.

long as the overall construction program of a city or community meets the needs of low income racial groups, the spokesman said.

Several days ago U.S. Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman made a dramatic announcement in New York, which led many people to believe that the government would end discrimination in all public housing. The announcement indicated that federal mortgage insurance would be barred in private housing on which racial and religious covenants were in force.

Later, that statement was clarified by Public Housing Administration officials to mean that only future covenants would bar federal insurance. The U.S. Supreme Court ruled covenants unenforceable by law two years ago.

State NAACP Plans for National Rights Meet

By CHARLES S. PRESTON

Plans for a large-scale outpouring of Hoosiers to Washington, D. C., to take part in the National Civil Rights Emergency Mobilization next month, were laid at a meeting held last Saturday in the Senate Avenue YMCA.

The national crusade has been called by the NAACP for Jan. 15-17. Scores of civic, religious and fraternal organizations, have already joined the drive.

The purpose will be to impress upon Congress, in no uncertain terms, the necessity of passing civil rights legislation at the present time rather than in the distant future.

A Fair Employment Practices Law is first on the list of measures which the crusaders will demand. Other laws to be sought include anti-lynching, anti-poll tax and anti-discrimination in public housing.

"The Iron Is Hot"
Date for the national gathering has been set at the best possible strategic time, sponsors say. The second session of the 81st Congress will just have begun its deliberations.

With all the Representatives and one-third of the Senators up for re-election in the fall, the politicians will be prone to curry favor with large delegations from back home.

"Okay, so you're our friend, then go ahead and pass these civil rights laws," the crusaders will reply. And they won't be in the mood to take "No can do" for an answer.

Saturday's meeting laid plans to scour the grass roots of Indiana for persons, Negro and white, to make up the Hoosier delegation. The gathering was called by Willard B. Ransom, NAACP state president.

A "working committee" was set up consisting of Ransom, Louis B. Greenberg, director of the Indiana Jewish Community Relations Council; Mrs. Edna Johnson, NAACP state secretary; Clement A. Niska of the Elkhart Industrial Union Council; CIO; Charles Posner, director of the Indianapolis Jewish Community Relations Council, and William T. Ray, president of the Indianapolis branch NAACP.

All Groups Invited
An effort will be made to reach all groups in the various communities and urge them to take part in the mobilization. A number of Northern Indiana young people are expected to go by special bus which is taking 75 students from Chicago University. Buses or train coaches may be chartered from Indiana University, Indianapolis and other points, according to plans.

Contributions for defraying expenses of the project may be mailed to the National Emergency Civil Rights Mobilization, Indiana Section, 803 K of P. Building, Indianapolis 4. Greenberg and Ray were named co-treasurers.

Herbert Hill, NAACP national field representative, will be here Jan. 5 to aid in arousing support for the crusade.

Other persons attending the planning session included Starling W. James, president of the Federation of Associated Clubs; Rev. F. F. Young and Mrs. Alberta Young, First Baptist Church of North Indianapolis; Rev. H. T. Toliver, Mt. Olive Baptist Church; Neal W. Edwards, CIO state president; Mrs. Adolph Cork and Arnold Grubin, Youth Labor League.

CHICAGO (ANP)—When the United States acquired the Virgin Islands from Denmark in 1917, it paid about three and one-half times the amount paid for Alaska. NO ROOM IN THE INN

AND SHE BROUGHT FORTH HER FIRST-BORN SON, AND WRAPPED HIM IN SWADDLING CLOTHES, AND LAID HIM IN A MANGER; BECAUSE THERE WAS NO ROOM FOR THEM IN THE INN. (Luke 2:7)

Although we have never heard the point discussed, it seems strange to us that there was no room for Mary in the inn. We of the Twentieth Century can hardly conceive of a situation where not one traveller could be found to give up his room for a woman who was about to become a mother.

No doubt it can be explained by the low esteem in which women were held in Oriental countries at that time. They were a Negro couple, traveling through Mississippi — or than animals. In this respect the human race has made great progress in the intervening twenty centuries.

And yet have we a right to boast, after all, that we are so far ahead of those times? Suppose Joseph and Mary were a Negro couple, traveling through Mississippi or through Indiana, for that matter. Would there be "room in the inn"? Or would the Child again be born in a stable, and laid in a manger?

In our consideration of the Christmas observance, our thoughts were moved in this direction by the report of a judge's decision in Buffalo, N. Y., last week.

Justice Alger Williams of the New York State Supreme Court had before him the case of a child whose mother was white, and whose father was "part Negro, part Irish and part Cherokee Indian." The little girl's grandparents (mother's parents) had been angry since their daughter married the "part-Negro" man. They had invited little Mary Marshall to their home for a visit, and then refused to let her go back to her parents.

What was the judge's decision? "After careful consideration," he said, "I find that the benefits and advantages to the child in remaining with her grandparents overwhelmingly outweigh and overbalance those she would procure in being returned to her parents."

The eminent justice ruled that this Mary must be taken from her own mother and father to live in a lily-white neighborhood with her mother's parents.

And we observe in this America of 1949, there is still "no room in the inn."

THE NEW SCHOOL LAW IN INDIANA MIGHT APPLY TO CORRECTIONAL AND PENAL INSTITUTIONS

Over a period of twenty years, and more, charges have been made to the Indianapolis Recorder, that the entire range of vocational training facilities or programs in the state's correctional and penal institutions have not been open to all inmates on the same basis.

However, following the enactment by the 1949 Indiana General Assembly of the "Anti-Segregated School Law", it has been ventured that a "fair deal or square deal" on the issue must be worked out.

In this connection some high-placed individuals over the entire state of Indiana and leaders of several civic organizations have conceived of joining forces to correct this irregular situation, along with one or more other baneful conditions, charged to the institutions herein noted.

Significantly in news reports of recent weeks Governor Henry F. Schricker in commenting upon conditions at the Indiana Reformatory, Pendleton, observed that it was a breeding place of crime. The Recorder accepts and repeats the charges made by former inmates of the several institutions that some inmates have been denied job or trade training chances at Plainfield, Pendleton and Michigan City.

A long range educational program for the state's correctional and penal institutions is now being planned, the public has been given to understand. The program will be supervised by licensed teachers, and in preparation be planned by able educators to the end of actually rehabilitating inmates of all these institutions.

Such a program cannot, must not involve anti-democratic spirit or action. The Recorder has a commitment from the Governor's office that charges herein noted will be investigated. The course of action of the state or its officials on this issue and under the new state law having to do with an equal chance of education will be watched and reported to the people in these columns.

FEDERAL HEALTH INSURANCE

Speaking before a committee in the U. S. House of Representatives recently on problems of low-income families in relation to the federal health insurance program, John L. Thurston made a striking observation on the relation of health and education to the security of a state or nation.

The phrase, "the security of a state or nation" noted in the previous instance herein, prompts us to return again, as many times heretofore, to a salient observation of an able English statesman and empire maker, Benjamin Disraeli. It was he who said, "The health of the people is really the foundation upon which all their happiness and all their powers as a state depend."

In the observations of some high placed people over our land, the question is, "Will our nation, in a little while lose to dangerous limits potential powers of the low-income, underprivileged populace?"

Mr. Thurston, acting Federal Security Administrator, says, "There is a striking relationship between low income for a family, or for a community, a state, or a nation, and education, health and minimum security."

Further he asserts, "This relation can be very dangerous. It can undermine a nation's security. But this relationship also holds a promise of utmost importance to all of us."

..... This relationship is dangerous because it spreads. Unless confined, it may confront the nation with a continuing decline in income and health and could lead to a dangerous reduction in the effectiveness of all our citizens.

..... Poor health has as little regard for economic, as for geographical, boundaries. It is literally true that we are all members, one of another, when the plague comes. But it is equally true that poverty breeds disease.

..... On the hopeful side of the picture is the experience of states and localities that, with Federal aid and their own funds, have been able to establish and maintain programs for maternal and child health, control of communicable diseases, industrial hygiene and environmental sanitation.

"Without exception, these safeguards pay enormous dividends in the reduction of mortality and the prolongation

OUR POLITICAL PLOT THICKENS

Truman like his noble predecessor Roosevelt is one of the astute politicians of the times. Schooled under Pendergast and Roosevelt, Truman is easily one of the political master minds of the national and international scene. It need not therefore surprise us if he rightly diagnoses Gen. Eisenhower's veiled determination to enter the presidential race in the near future. This writer made bold to assert several months ago that Gen. Ike was a candidate for the presidency. Of course he thought the time was not propitious during the last election; but he feels that it will be sufficiently propitious in 1952 and he is accordingly getting political ducks in a row by making a series of statements which can easily be construed as the ground work of his veiled candidacy.

This writer is afraid of General Ike and it is just as well that the Negroes begin now to appraise his presidential possibilities and potentialities. Gen. Eisenhower has already made the wrong gesture in a statement made some months ago. When he observed that "good will could not be legislated" he was throwing a sop to the southerners as a token of appeasement on the color question. Unless signs miscarry Gen. Eisenhower is out to exploit the democratic disaffection at the South, a disaffection closely related to Truman's civil rights fight with the defeated South, who must resort to filibusters to stem the tide of righteousness that is rising throughout the nation.

"Losing Venture"

It would be exceedingly unfortunate for Gen. Eisenhower to attempt to exploit this ugly situation for presidential support. But that is exactly what the general is planning to do and his veiled statements and crafty evasions serve but to confirm the conviction that he is heading in this general direction. In fact it is this writer's fervent hope that would be president Eisenhower will pursue just such course for it will insure another term for Truman and his "fair deal" which is knocking upon the door of this nation's most serious attention. Every northerner's attempt to exploit the South's traditional prejudices for political purposes has failed ingloriously. Former President Taft was the first to try to break the solid South by proffers of appeasement to the Negroes. He failed ingloriously and Gen. Eisenhower as standard bearer of the Republican party making overtures to the Ku Klux South, will likewise fail.

The Man of the Hour

Truman and his political cohorts have fastened in the minds of this generation the notion that the future of this nation is somehow bound up with a broad security program and such program appeals to the masses of the people in whose keeping ultimately is the future of the country. Truman is easily the man of the hour in the Twentieth Century world and he is proving himself a courageous statesman as well as a practical politician of deepest dye. The first few months of his presidency Mr. Truman looked like a step-president; but as of now he has taken over with a vigor that stuns his traducers and gainsayers. Harry Truman is now president of the United States and nobody knows it better than the hard-headed callous Republicans led by the outmoded Robert Taft. Truman nor his selections can lose while they sponsor the fair deal policies for which there can be no substitute.

"A Mighty Bad Market"

As long as the Democrats look forward and the Republicans backward, there is little ground to doubt the overwhelming defeat of Eisenhower or anybody else who dares kick against the political, social and economic pricks. And Gen. Eisenhower is driving his ducks to a mighty bad market, so it seems to this writer. Negroes of this country would be poorly advised if they failed to guard themselves and their future against the southern appeasement that Eisenhower is offering, even before the tide of political battle rises.

Negroes can well follow the line of general principles in the coming elections; they could very well afford to vote against anybody the anti-Trumanites support, and this includes more particularly to the Dixiecrats. The time to appraise the situation is now; for Eisenhower is already court ing the favors of the Dixiecrat South. Our political plot is thickening! "Real Cross-Town Car Service—"

When The Dark Wise Man Returned Home
(An Untold Tale of the Nativity)
By HARRY LEVETTE FOR ANP

The Three Wise Men returned to their own lands
From far off Bethlehem, where following
The Star, they'd journeyed, rich gifts in their hands
And worshipped, listening to the angels sing.

To Balthasar the dark Wise Man there came
The elders of his council, rapt to hear
What had transpired; what was this new King's name?
What will the future bring? He said, "Draw near."

"The Babe will be named Jesus, Son of God
"But it will be fully twenty centuries more
Before man rising from the debased sod
Begins to accept Him in fullest score."

There will be wars and lust and racial hate;
Man's wisdom will seek new means to destroy.
But Peace will come before it is too late:
Through brotherhood will dawn eternal joy.

NAACP YOUTH LEADER LAUDS LOCAL GROUPS

To The Editor,
The Recorder
Dear Sir:

The visit of (Mrs.) Ruby Hurley, National Youth Secretary of the NAACP to Indianapolis last week did much to increase the understanding of Indianapolis youth of NAACP work and boosted their enthusiasm to a higher degree. Coming directly from the State Conference in Gary, Indiana, and conferences with Chicago Youth Councils, Mrs. Hurley spoke to a group of thirty (30) youth representing the Indianapolis College group, the Indianapolis High School group, and the Haughville Group on Wednesday night, December 7, 1949.

Other speakers included Mitchell Dailey, treasurer of the College group; Floyd Walton, president of the High School Group; Helen Tate and Robert Scott of the Haughville group.

Mrs. Hurley was greatly impressed with the keen interest and vitality of the newly organized Haughville group which was host of the meeting at the home of the Haughville sponsor, Mrs. Edna Johnson, 1132 N. Sheffield Avenue. Emphasis was placed on a well planned fighting program for civil rights in Indianapolis for jobs, recreation, eating and housing facilities. Geraldine Tate, vice president of the Haughville Group and Floyd Walton were co-chairmen of the meeting. Miss Rosemary Campbell, local Youth Advisor, and Mrs. Edna Johnson participated in the discussion.

On Thursday night, Mrs. Hurley met with the Indiana University Council in Bloomington, accompanied by Mrs. Edna Johnson and Otis Bryant. Valjean Dickerson is the president. On Friday, Mrs. Hurley met with the Purdue University group in Lafayette. —MRS. EDNA JOHNSON.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

To The Editor
The Recorder
Dear Sir:

Each Christmas my heart is full of wishes and hopes like a child, that Santa will bring me a new sled or doll, on Christmas Eve. I wish for each and every one of us to play Santa, year in and year out it makes life a merry Christmas.

Tear down those walls that divide men. No man can claim the world his, no man can declare himself king or almighty. There is but One, and that One is the Maker of all heaven and earth. Who are we to decide, what race or creed shall be servants of God. Whether we live up to it, or not there is but one Christmas spirit. And it is better to give than receive.

CHRISTMAS AND NINETEEN AND ONE-HALF CENTURIES OF HOPE

Christmas 1949 finds the world still expecting the realization of the hope that was born in the manger in Bethlehem.

In 1949 as in all the other years since then, professing Christians will celebrate the anniversary of the Birth that gave them a plan for making the world a decent place in which to live. But they will celebrate in manners and ways that run counter to the very essence of the doctrine of the Man, Whose Name the day bears.

In his lifetime, Jesus found it necessary to reprimand the money-changers who made a mockery of the sacredness of the established religion. In our day, the same interests have invaded the temple and have diverted the purpose of Christmas from that of the glorification of the birth of hope and dedication to its fulfillment to an orgy of spending and satisfying of our carnal appetites.

"The Commercial Spirit"

Yet we do not object. We enter gaily into the swim and buy and buy in order that we may exchange gifts — things which often the giver can ill afford and which the receiver usually does not need.

And on the day itself, we are too busy investigating our end of the gift exchange and over-eating and over-drinking to give a thought to the significance of the holiday.

And when we get back to work and face the battery of January bills, we repent of our follies and take a firm resolution not to repeat our foolishness until next Christmas.

It may be said in our defense that we do bow sufficiently to the spirit of the oc-an understanding, that every creature should bear warning of the terrible penalty for mis-handling.

7. Christmas comes as a reminder that a life perfectly holy and true came all the way from heaven to live and die for you.

8. He came to teach us how to live, to watch and to pray, and from our lives and through His blood, wash all our sins away.

9. Christmas stimulates the memory that Christ's sinless life here on earth was spent that the sins of men everywhere might be forgiven if only they repent.

10. And now, because He came to earth, not boasting of earthly royalty, the high and the lowly bow to Him in recognition of His holy authority.

11. He evaded the priestly robes and royal diadems; but despite the lowly manger, they brought Him gifts and priceless gems.

12. Thus, out of sacred memory for the life we can never forget, we hail again this PRINCE OF PEACE whose light is burning yet.

casion to send lovely Christmas cards to our friends and acquaintances and to indulge in the Christian practice of charity.

The sending of Christmas cards is but another concession to the business interests, whose puppets we become at Christmas time. These mass-produced missives with canned sentiments are confessions that we have become mechanized so that we no longer possess the elementary human emotions necessary to translate the great hope into reality or have lost the ability to express ourselves convincingly to our friends in speech or in writing.

And those little charity efforts in which we clothe a child or give a basket to the needy whom we neglect the rest of the year are mainly sales to even consciences for we have not had the courage collectively to remedy the conditions which make this charity either impressive or necessary.

"The Added Ugliness"

In spite of all the ugliness which we have added to the celebration of the Christmas season, we have left some of the beauty—not without the commercial interests claiming their share however. We still sing some of the world's most beautiful songs at this time of the year, even if they mean nothing to us but pleasant combinations of sounds.

And on Christmas Eve night it is pleasant to listen in to the radio, even down home in Possum Trot and hear great singers sing these great songs between the commercials. Then we may feel like doing something to create a new world in keeping with the great hope born with the Carpenter's Son, but the commercial usually pulls us back to earth and puts us again in step with the world of divisions and hatreds.

YOUR CHILD'S HEARING

More than three million school children in the United States have defective hearing. The most important and common cause for hearing losses is an obstruction of the tube that leads from the throat to the middle ear. Called the Eustachian tube, its purpose is to equalize the air pressure on the inside of the middle ear cavity with the outer air. If this tube is not open, the unequal air pressure on the drum membranes of our ear causes a full feeling, with a noticeable impairment in hearing. If the tube remains blocked for a long time, permanent damage to the ear can result. For example, enlarged adenoids can cover the opening of the Eustachian tube into the throat and prevent air from entering the middle ear cavity. If detected in time, removal of the adenoids will restore normal hearing. If neglected for a long period, permanent hearing damage can result.

Any obstruction such as wax or a foreign object that fills the ear canals will impair the normal hearing process and hearing loss occurs. When the hearing nerve, however, is involved, the hearing loss is permanent, since once destroyed the nerve never grows back. Some children are born with a defective hearing nerve, while others can attribute their deafness to diphtheria and other infectious childhood diseases.

Since the majority of hearing losses in children are the type that can be helped or prevented by medical attention, provided they are discovered early, it is important that all children be given hearing tests.

"Early Bird" Picks Favorites In High School Cage Tourney

By CHARLES S. PRESTON
Our favorite pastime being getting out on a limb, we will break down and inform the reader that Gary Froebel, Anderson, Muncie Central and New Albany will be the last four basketball teams left at Butler Fieldhouse next March. The first two are interracial squads and while our spies at Muncie have let us down, we presume that Central's Bearcats are too.

That leaves New Albany to uphold white supremacy, unless things have changed more than we think down along the Ohio River.

Kick us if we're wrong, but if we're right, sharpen up your basket eyes, boys—those Bulldogs will take a lot of beating. All they did last week was to swamp New Castle, "uncrowned king" of the magazine writers, by a score of 53-24. We wish that was a typographical error, but no such luck.

However, Froebel's six-foot-five center, sepia John Moore, will have plenty to say about anybody getting past the Blue Devils. He hit exactly 500—11 field goals in 22 attempts, and three free throws out of six—as unbeaten Froebel rolled to a 58-43 win over Whiting.

Wilson Leads Indians
Jumpin' Gene Wilson, leading scorer of the North Central Conference, paced the all-around Anderson Indians to an easy 58-37 win over Hagerstown.

Latest product of the Indian talent hunt is Haines Harrington, Negro sophomore who is pushing Roy Young, likewise sepia, for the pivot position.

Promoted to the varsity a week before, Harrington outscored Young in the Hagerstown clash. Maybe Anderson should have two teams!

Richmond's surprising Red Devils continued to look good as they downed Fort Wayne Central, 46-30. Both squads are interracial.

Entee Shine, remembered from last year's Final Foursome, lived up to his name as South Bend Central knocked off South Bend Adams, 49-39, and Lafayette Jeff, 45-34. The tall and husky lad got 15 points in the first contest and 18 in the second—decidedly not hay.

Session Hits 30
Scoring honors for the week, however, went to another lanky Negro lad, Charley Session of Little Glenn, down Terre Haute way, poured in 30 markers—count 'em, 30—while the Pirates defeated Valley High 61-37.

"People's Choice" dopesters are keeping a sober eye on unbeaten Glenn, which also dropped Terre Haute Riley by a 51-26 count last week. Session getting 15 in that one.

Evansville Lincoln made history by playing its first regularly scheduled game against a "white" Evansville school. The Lions lost, 67-41, to a Central quintet that hit .538 from the field. Earlier in the week, Lincoln had toyed with Mt. Olympus for a 62-17 victory.

Gary Roosevelt's stock fell after three wins when Gary Emerson defeated the Panthers 44-32.

M. Orton Makes Frosh Net Team At Indiana

Malcolm Orton, former Crispus Attucks high school basketball player who was not allowed to play in his senior year at the local school, has made the freshman basketball team at Indiana University—the second Negro in Big Ten competition. Bill Garrett, Shelbyville, was first.

Orton, who survived three cuts of 60 first-year candidates, was listed among the 18-member squad in a release from the school last week-end.

Graduated from Attucks in June this year, Orton, an outstanding player at center or guard, was the central figure in a widely publicized incident during the 1948 season.

Orton, playing reserve on what was considered the best team in the history of the school, was declared ineligible after the second Attucks game of that tournament. This was the game that knocked Tech's great team out of the running.

As a matter of fact it was a Tech man that spotted Orton sitting on the bench and reported the Attucks center had been seen playing with a team in the CYO league.

However, Orton had not played in the Tech game. He had performed briefly in the first round of the tournament when Attucks easily won.

When it was finally made an issue it was learned that the north-side youth had played in this out-of-school competition during a time when he was ineligible for the Tiger squad.

He had flunked too many subjects during the season and could not play for six weeks. During the time he was out, Orton, who'd "rather bust strings than eat", played a few games with a neighborhood team.

He did not know it was contrary to the IHSAA rules though, he declared.

However, after it was all over—Tech had been beaten and the Tigers lost their next game—Attucks officials told the junior classman he would never again participate in athletics at the school.

Though he was ineligible for that '47-'48 team he was eligible to play during the '48-'49 season, according to the IHSAA.

But Attucks powers had said "no."—J. C.

By JIM CUMMINGS
Having hurdled their first real test of the current campaign, Crispus Attucks' cagers were to be off this week — after the Broad Ripple Game Tuesday night — in preparation for their holiday bickering.

Coach Fitzhugh Lyons' Tigers, who clipped the wings of high flying Manual Friday night of last week, were slated to cater to the advances of Pine Village Thursday, December 29, in the Washington Gym, 2215 W. Washington street.

The Greenclads will go from here to a four-way tournament January 2. They will meet Sacred Heart in the first game of the tourney, which also includes Manual and the Silent Hoosiers. The affair, held in the Cathedral Gym, will see two elimination games in the afternoon and a game between the afternoon losers and another between the winners in the evening.

The Lyonsmen yanked Manual off its high horse Friday of last week in the Tech Gym. Moving to a final 46 to 34 win, the Tigers snapped the Red-skins' no loss victory string at four.

Rated the underdog by everyone but The Recorder, the well-balanced West Street aggregation took an early lead and led at every stop. The group popped to an 11-10 first period lead, came into the half post at 24-20, and then bounced to 34-27 at the third quarter stop.

The scoring was pretty evenly divided between Donald Thomas, Benny Cook and John Davis, who hit 13, 12, and 10 points, respectively.

Took Over Backboards

Thomas as usual was the spark-plug of the team, teaming with Robert Wright at forward and working the ball into the pivot circle nicely, driving through or around, or shooting and hitting from the distance.

Cook and Davis, helped along by John Ford, outjumped the taller Manual players and controlled the backboards. In addition Davis, who obviously has practiced his pivoting since the earlier games, made some pivot shots that were great.

—Score By Periods—

Attucks 11 13 10 12—46
Manual 10 10 7 7—34

Free Throws Missed—Wright 3, Thomas 3, Cook 2, Wilson, Jewell, Smith, Elder, J. Nyers 3, Calderon 2.

Referee—Thatcher.
Umpire—Beechert.

The Attucks Tigers beat Broad Ripple 38 to 31 Tuesday night of this week in the Tech Gym.

Don Thomas, shot as a dime store six shooter, sizzled the nets with four fielders and a free throw to lead his mates to a 13 to 9 first quarter lead which they never lost.

It was 21 to 18 at the half as Kenneth Wilson, forward, hit four points in the torrid second quarter and Benny Cook, guard, made a basket with Robert Jewell and John Ford, guard, capitalizing on one gratis heave each.

The Rockets had controlled the blackboards most of the first period but began to loose out as the period ended and John Davis, Attucks' 6-foot 2-inch center, started coming down with 'em.

The Tigers took complete charge of the backboards in the second period when 6-foot 3-inch Jewell replaced Davis, who at this time had three personals on him.

Broad Ripple didn't sink a point in the third period which saw Jewell tip in one, pivot for a two-pointer and hit a free one. Cook also hit a fielder and the Tigers went to rest at the three-quarter mark 28 to 18, ahead.

After Jewell tipped another to start the final heat, the Rockets narrowed the gap to five points but Thomas got hot again and fired away for four points and the Tigers led 34 to 27 at the automatic time out.

Thomas, who finished high scorer with 15 points, hit another and Jewell pushed one through during the final three minutes.

Jewell ended with 10 points while Cook followed with eight and Wilson had four. —J. C.

JOE LOUIS KAYOVS
AL HOOSMAN IN FIFTH ROUND

OAKLAND, Calif.—Joe Louis Barrow, retired heavyweight champion knocked out Al Hoosman of Los Angeles in two minutes and sixteen seconds of the fifth round of their scheduled 10-round bout here on Monday night of this week.

Joe Louis weighed 223½ lbs. and Hoosman weighed 211½. The retired champ carried the fight all the way and observers viewed the tilt as another step along the "come-back" trail by Joe Louis.

College Cagers Set Fast Pace in Tilts Over State

Bill Garrett led the red-hot Hoosiers of Indiana University as they ran over DePaul and Arkansas last week, and then took the first of a two-game series from Oregon State.

Garrett and Lou Watson hit 13 points apiece as Indiana outsped DePaul, 61-55. The Shelbyville ace notched 20 while his squad dropped Arkansas, 75-50.

Lanky Bill got 12 markers. Watson 13 and Jerry Stuteville 12 in the opening contest.

Monday at Oregon State. The Pacific Coast Conference defending champions proved plenty stubborn before going down 65-60. The teams played again Tuesday, too late for this edition.

The Hoosiers, out of the Big Nine running last season, have come on so fast that they are now co-favorites with Minnesota for the title. Conference games will begin after Jan. 1.

Elsewhere on the state college front, Russ Freeland paced DePaul to a 62-47 win over Ball State. The Lawrence goalster was high for the Tigers with 15 points.

Earham's Quakers beat Rose Poly, 43-38, and then dropped a 53-44 tilt to Oberlin. Wilfred Doty scored nine points for Earham in each contest.

Buy Long Island Home, Near Jackie

BROOKLYN (ANP)—Roy Campanella and Jackie Robinson are neighbors now that the stock catcher has purchased a home near the Dodger second baseman's residence in St. Albans, Long Island.

Last summer when Dodger Pitcher Don Newcombe had sought a home in St. Albans, the real estate salesman told him that he wouldn't be too far from Robinson, thereupon the big rookie called off the deal. He said Robinson "keeps after me too much."

By OPAL L. TANDY
A REPORT TO THE PEOPLE:

For some strange reason a rumor went through police headquarters the early part of the week that a shake-up was in the making. The men who wear no gold had nothing to worry about; but the top brass was very nervous. The orders were supposed to come from the man with white "hair-do" personally but it didn't materialize so that's that for now . . .

The City Cab company combined with the Civic Service has installed a call-box for the Eastside (25th and Martindale) — came about as the result of much-needed cab service for that part of town. Service is around the clock. Courtesy is one word they take personal interest in. Carl Butler pushed this program through. He hopes to do even more soon as possible. . . .

Two Christmas presents for Yours truly have already arrived, a ball point pen from Ernest Butler, and a multi-colored exclusive brand necktie from Olin (Pete) Green, the city's best dressed man. This is an annual gift from Mr. Green. This is a good start but I am expecting many more from Russell Williams, of the Downbeat; a lot of gamblers who run joints; James Sharpe, of the Cotton House, Norman Riley, Isaac (Tuffy) Mitchell, of the Mitchell's Restaurant, 200 Indiana avenue; and naturally one from Samuel Lawrence, of the Beautiful Savoy wonder bar of the Eastside. Lawrence is all alone now in his spacious surroundings and does not have too much time to play. . . .

John L. McNelis, the ex-municipal judge, will journey to Florida during the Yuletide season where his wife and daughter already are. The idle rich alone can afford to do this. Expenses will run them more than half a "c-not" per day. . . .

"Miss neatness" is a good nickname for Gladys Smith, diminutive waitress at the Imperial Cafe during the late shift. Her husband is the "local swoon-crooner." Wonder if she will change just because she has a wager on? . . .

Dorothy Dunlap, willowy and pert, being made more attractive by some gold teeth in the right place, knows about at least one of her Christmas presents. She picked it out all by herself against her will. . . .

Over five years ago, I personally tried to induce police Captain Michael Hines to file his candidacy for sheriff of Marion County. He could not be persuaded. Now after all these years it appears that he might change his mind. If he does then it will mean that the people of this county will be given an opportunity to invest heavily in a cause for the civic betterment of their county government. . . .

Be he Republican or Democrat, Hines would not need to seek the job. In this instance the job should seek him. If he does decide to run he will get everything he needs for support. But best of all, he will get what it takes to win an election, confidence and belief of the people in his ability to do a job. . . .

Shadows Hit Popularity Peak On First Initial Recording

NEW YORK — The Shadows, newest singing foursome to crash the entertainment big time, has aroused an unusual controversy over the relative merits of their initial coupling. Their recording is made up of "I've Been A Fool" on one side and "Nobody Knows" on the other.

"Streets of Laredo" At Park Tuesday

Four top Paramount stars, not one of whom has ever before appeared in a Western film, head the cast of this studio's brilliant, outdoor adventure, "Streets of Laredo," which arrives next Tuesday at the PARK theatre. They are William Holden, William Bendix, Macdonald Carey and Mona Freeman, the latter making her debut as a fully adult star. Until now she has been seen only in teen-age roles, and will be remembered especially for her delightful portrayal of the kid sister in "Dear Ruth."

THRILL-PACKED ACTION in "Streets of Laredo" is interpreted on canvas at the Park Theater Thursday.

JOHN WAYNE and John Howard are romantic rivals for the hand of beautiful Vera Ralston in "The Fighting Kentuckian," which opens Sunday at the Walker.

'The Fightin' Kentuckian' At Walker Sunday

Although John Howard, of Republic's "The Fighting Kentuckian," opening Sunday at WALKER theatre, is one of Hollywood's most sought after actors, he does not believe in putting all his eggs in one basket. Howard has interests in all sorts of allied fields; he was one of the first Hollywood stars to enter the field of television, he has done considerable radio work and is now working on a series of record albums for children. "A couple of seasons past he surprised Hollywood when he sang the lead in the Greek Theatre production of "Rose Marie," revealing a sensational baritone voice. Since that performance he has been in demand as a singer as well as an actor.

Two Great Pictures Billed At Your Avenue Theatre

Johnny Weissmuller, the king of jungle stars, fights his greatest battles against fierce beasts of the jungle and evil white raiders who invade a lost African empire in Columbia's "Jungle Jim and the Lost Tribe," due to arrive at the AVENUE theatre Sunday. Second in the new series of jungle epics starring Weissmuller, the movie features Myrna Dell, Elena Verdugo and Joseph Vitale. Thrill fans can expect to see a savage jungle spectacle, amazing displays of Johnny's aquatic prowess and a thrilling story about a fabled land. Louis de Rochemont, producer of the daring "Lost Boundaries," which opens Thursday at the AVENUE theatre, may not be the father of semi-documentary movies, but he's nurtured them with all the tender care and energy of a man who expects to see his offspring grow up to be a big force in the world. Why? Louis de Rochemont has a ready answer to that question because he's got a bug in his bonnet—most an obsession — on the value of real-life movie-making. "The aim of any drama," he says, "is to give the illusion of real things—real things happening. So why not use real things in the first place?"

Sarah Vaughan Opens At Cafe Society in N.Y.

Recorder Benefit Show Huge Success at Avenue Theatre

Thanks to Entertainers, Firms and Public for Generous Cooperation

More than 60 loyal entertainers united their talents to give the Indianapolis public three of the greatest performances ever witnessed in these parts at the Broadway Chitlin' Theater. The gala shows were a tremendous success, in spite of the fact several top-notch performers did not have an opportunity to show their wares because of the time element involved. Also the capacity of the theater, made it impossible to accommodate the overflow crowds. The Avenue Club can only seat 217 persons with standing room for about 100.

And once again those five performers: William Fawcett has his outstanding work as emcee, Willis Dyer, Dudley Stamp's orchestra, Ray McMillan, Bill Cox, Bud Foster, Quincy Arles, Stanley Smith, Larry Johnson, Louie and Thelma Cox, Carl Berkland, Edwin Bell, Chas. Brown, J. M. C., A. R. C., Ray Smith, Opella Ray, Jeanette Harris, Jennie Collins, Alfred Williams, Johnnie Williams, Sammie Davis, Dorothy Simmons, Slim Reed, Harold Smith, Maggie Jones, Edna Harris, with Henry Young, Jeanette Cole's combo, The Three Strings, Jerry Dunbar, John Watson, Linda Ann Hunter, The Gavilan's combo with Pops, Clarence Barfield, Leonard & Leonard, Billy Scott, Donald Simon, Randolph & Shabaz, Leo Lind, Vito Combo, Harry Combs, Jack Bridges Trio, Norris Byers, Hackleback Town, Duke Freeman's "Shufin On Parade," Yvonne Williams and many others.

The Research theatrical department, sponsors of the show, regrets deeply the fact that several persons did not come to the program.

How to be
"UP and AROUND"
with a BACKACHE

• For muscular backaches, put on a Johnson's BACK PLASTER—almost like wearing a heating pad as you work. It acts 3 ways: (1) Brings the warm, healing blood to the sore spot. (2) Straps twitching muscles—cuts down jabs of pain. (3) The pad guards against chilling.
• Get Johnson's BACK PLASTER, made by Johnson & Johnson—known for fine surgical products for 62 years. At all drug stores.
